TO READ

LEARNING TO TALK, GETTING READY TO READ

These books are based on research by psychologists and educators on the benefits of early reading for children. It is believed that the foundations for a habit of reading are formed at a young age. Early reading is linked to the development of a child's language and cognitive skills. Rhymed, partially repetitive rhythmic text helps improve children's memory and lays the foundation for language development.

Who are these books for?

For 1 to 7-year-old children.

The youngest readers will enjoy easy-to-remember rhymes and colourful illustrations.

Slightly older children will take pleasure in naming the pictures and finding the correct word form, inserting words as their parents read the story.

Children who are just starting to read will find simple words written in capitals, which they will already be able to recognise and read.

Titles: 2 | Size: 223x225 mm | Pages: 24 + endpapers + cover | Inside pages: 4/4 on 170 gsm matt bulk paper | Binding: 2,4 mm hardcover
